The project is organised by the Emmanuel Gounot de Vénissieux home-based special needs education and care service (SESSAD, in the Lyon region), which cares for children and young teenagers with behavioural disorders. The aim is to help six children shoot six short videos with the help of SESSAD staff and a professional videographer.
Each video begins with children identifying a significant event in their lives, before choosing a work of art during a visit to the Fine Arts Museum in Lyon.
These short films are then put together and shown within the SESSAD, and in schools and culture centres throughout the district.

JHAM (JUMELAGE HANDICAP AIDE MADAGASCAR) – APRIL 2015 AND NOVEMBER 2016 – JULY 2018 TO MARCH 2019
Madagascar is among the 10 poorest countries in the world, and it lacks the facilities required to provide proper accommodation for the most vulnerable children, making the situation for disabled children all the more difficult.

The JHAM project consists of setting up a partnership over several years between the ARIMC (an association located in the Rhône-Alpes area for people with cerebral-motor disabilities) and six Madagascan centres for disabled persons. To ensure its smooth and efficient functioning and longevity, this partnership is organised and financed by Institut Dominique & Tom Alberici.

The first stage of the project, in 2015, consisted of collecting and shipping out equipment adapted for disabled children and young adults (wheelchairs, pushchairs, furniture, etc.), and getting to know what their requirements are in terms of training.

In 2017, after a week of observation in March, Institut Dominique & Tom Alberici will ship out equipment in June and organise a one-week collective education programme in two centres with French education specialists in October 2017.
The 3rd phase, JHAM3, launched in 2018 with a collection of items such as adaptive equipment, games, educational toys and books, stationery, school supplies, clothing and household linen.
The 33 m^3 container left France on the 28th December en route for Toamasina in Madagascar, and we distributed the equipment to ten Malagasy organisations during our mission between the 3rd and 17th March. A collective education programme was organized in two centres with French education specialists in March 2018, and we also paid a visit to two other organisations whose equipment was funded by our Endowment Fund.
